Your inspection is invited. Satisfaction suddenly lost their fine lead and allowed Middlebury College to forge ahead, and after regaining their lead, for the second time became generous and aided the visitors to once more take the forward step until at the close of the game Goddard had been defeated by a score of 23 to 15. Like the colors of the rainbow the contest had all kinds SEGEL & BRADY, Prop'rs. of base ball from grand stand plays, to errors that would have made a kindergarten player blush. This exhibition was not due to any one player of either team, but a grand combination of all hands. The home team is much stronger than the college boys, and should have won with else. Bush again pitched a star game for Goddard and his backstop, Ayer was in the game from start to finish, both when wearing the mask and when swinging the club. Perhaps if the loss of the game is to be placed anywhere it is due to the inexcusable errors by Chase and Tenney. These players, are as a rule sure on flies but in Mondays game either could not see the ball or failed to shut their hands in time, for fly after fly was batted in their territory only to be either muffed or allowed to roll far beyond them while runner after runner crossed the plate with scores. So marked did this become that in the eighth inning Gale was put in centre, Chase going to right and in the last inning Booth succeeded hase. There was only a small crowd
